Being an SMU scholar reaches far beyond the monetary value of the scholarship.

I recall that during the welcome speech at our scholars' orientation, we were encouraged to not only celebrate our appointments as scholars, but to also remember that our education and what we made of that investment in our lives, mattered more than the award itself.

This scholarship has given me many enriching opportunities. I am currently pursuing a multi-disciplinary major in Politics, Law and Economics and my professors have inspired me to further my passion in these disciplines. I also have the joy of meeting a group of fun-loving and interesting individuals within the same scholarship, some of whom study together with me regularly.

SMU MERIT SCHOLARSHIP

The Global Impact Scholarship piqued my interest because of what it conveyed to me about the things that SMU cared about. While academic excellence is the baseline of any scholarship, the fact that SMU designed an entire suite of SMU-X courses with a focus on solving real-world industry issues really set SMU apart from other universities. Hence, when I found out that the SMU-X programme was a main feature of the Global Impact Scholarship Award, I applied for it.

This year, we will get the opportunity to travel to Jaipur, India, where we aim to create a sustainable source of income for low-skilled women in our beneficiary. The challenge is massive – to not just create a business plan, but implement it in another country, and have it become self-sustainable. It is precisely this push towards new experiences outside our comfort zones which I find to be the most invaluable part of being a Global Impact scholar, because it empowers us to overcome our natural inertia.

GLOBAL IMPACT SCHOLARSHIP AWARD

I have a passion to reach out to people in need and the LKCSP has empowered me to realise this through specific projects that include Project Neora which seeks to empower the villagers of Chuikhim village and Neora valley (India) through education, social development, and eco-tourism, as well as local projects with the Thye Hua Kwan Moral Society. These projects have opened my eyes to the ambit of community building and serving people in need. In addition, I have enjoyed my time building genuine relationships with my fellow LKCSP scholars and having a sense of belonging to this community.

LEE KONG CHIAN SCHOLARS' PROGRAMME (LKCSP)

I took up the Yip Pin Xiu Scholarship because it was a perfect fit for me. Apart from its financial benefits, the scholarship offers opportunities for me to grow as a person through the various projects and exchange programmes. SMU embraces a holistic culture where students are encouraged to enhance their capabilities by taking up co-curricular activities that includes sports. In fact,

SMU has been very supportive of my athletic obligations and has gone the extra mile to ensure that I am coping well with both my sports and studies.

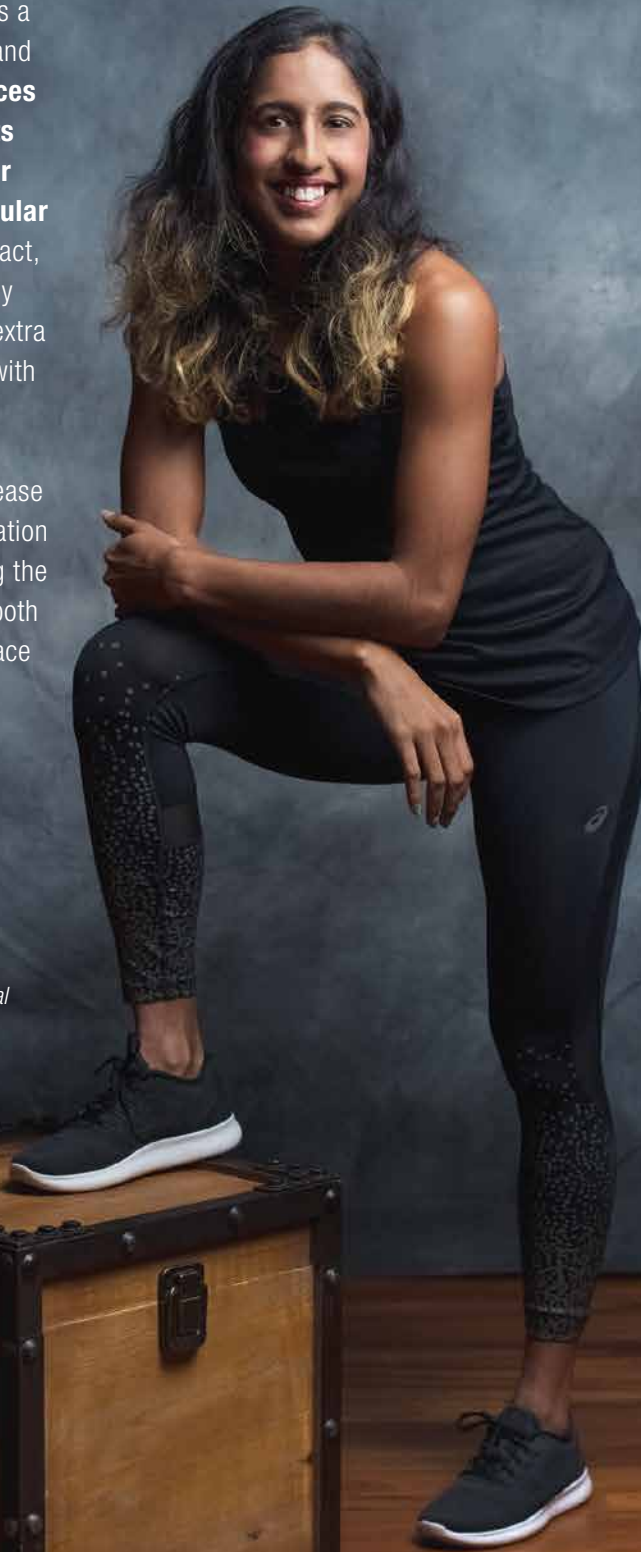

As such, I am able to set my mind at ease and focus on making my school and nation proud through my sport, and upholding the values that a student should have in both the sporting arena and in the workplace in the future.
