“A broad-based and interactive pedagogy made us versatile. It also gave us an edge in our careers.”

Employers have been treated to a different class of candidates with our graduates. The students from Singapore Management University are bold, confident, articulate and versatile, setting them apart from the rest. Our broad-based and cross-disciplinary form of education, together with an interactive pedagogy, equips our students with hard knowledge, soft skills, and ‘heart’ skills, transforming them into well-rounded individuals. More than 7,200 graduates across the world are a testament to our unique education. A strong graduate employment record* affirms our renowned approach and shows that our students are highly regarded by employers across diverse fields with 60% finding jobs even before graduation. Coupled with a strong focus on global exposure, internships and community service, we have produced countless success stories. And you can be the next one. WELCOME TO SMU. DISCOVER A DIFFERENT U.
